SEWER GAS KILLS ONE.

Two Others in Serious Condition at Stoneham.

Boston, Aug. 10.—Michael O'Loughlin is dead. Patrick McMahon is dying and Patrick Higgins is in a serious condition, as the result of being overcome by gas while working in a sewer at Stoneham yesterday. But for timely assistance by several other laborers, who were at work nearby, Higgins, it is believed, would have died from the effects of the gas, as he was taken from the sewer unconscious after he had attempted to save the lives of his two fellow workmen. O'Loughlin is survived by a wife and four children.

The three men went down into the sewer shortly after noon to flush it out. O'Loughlin was the first man to feel the effects of the gas and was unable to climb out of the conduit. McMahon and Higgins, however, succeeded in getting out on the roadbed. Higgins, after a few breaths of fresh air, went down into the sewer after O'Loughlin, but the gas was so strong that he became unconscious almost immediately.

McMahon secured a rope and went down but was also unsuccessful in rendering assistance to his companions. His cries for help attracted the attention of other workers near by, who went to the rescue of the three men. Taking the rope, they tied it about the bodies of the unconscious men, and one by one raised them to the surface. Although in a serious condition, it is believed that Higgins will recover.

ONE ARM TORN OUT.

Terrible Accident to John Casey at Dover, N. H., Yesterday.

Dover, N. H., Aug. 10.—A serious accident occurred here yesterday, when John Casey, an employee of the Sawyer Mills of the American Woolen company, was drawn into one of the pickers in the picker room and was very severely injured.

Casey was operating one of the machines, when he caught his right hand, and before the heavy machine could be brought to rest the entire arm was drawn in and torn from the socket. His right side came in contact with the mechanism and was badly lacerated and bruised.

Word was immediately forwarded to Dr. George A. Tolman. When the physician arrived, the injured man lay upon the floor, wrapped in sheets and bagging, bleeding profusely from his wounds to such an extent that the doctor had some difficulty in stopping the flow.

As soon as possible the sufferer was taken to the Wentworth hospital in Glidden & Glidden's ambulance, where he was placed upon the dangerous list. Mr. Casey, the victim of the accident, resides in Burnham and Demeritt's court and has a wife and five children.

DEATHS IN PARADE.

Several Accidents Mar Pleasure of Knights Templar.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—One tragic death, one accident which physicians say will prove fatal, and a dozen minor mishaps, due to the crowds, met a shadow yesterday over the parade of what Masons say was the greatest number of Knights Templar who ever formed in line in any city.

Except for a slight thunderstorm lasting but a short time, the weather was perfect. From nine o'clock, when the signal to start was given until after 1:00 p. m., when the last knight had passed before the reviewing stand, the thermometer ranged from 71 to 79 degrees with a cool breeze.

More than 40,000 knights were in line, while over half a million spectators sat in the huge reviewing stands occupying the entire east side of Michigan boulevard as far south as Twelfth street, or stood along the line of march.

The first note of tragedy in the day came on his way to join his commandery, was caught between two cars and received injuries from which he died on his way to a hospital. In the grandstand, two blocks away, sat Mrs. Grossmann. She did not learn of her husband's death until she reached home.

William Hackett, a knight from Fort St. Louis, was thrown from his horse in the parade and dragged with his heel in the stirrup for a block before the animal could be stopped. He will die.

W. B. Biddle of LaPorte, Ind., was struck by a cab and seriously hurt. Scores of women who fainted in the crush received attention in emergency hospital booths, which had been erected at intervals along the line of march.

Immediately after the parade the first formal session of the convalescence was held.

SUSPECT NOT RESTEILL.

Man Who Resembled Quincy Murderer Found in Nova Scotia.

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 10.—A man resembling Luigi Restelli, wanted in Quincy, Mass., for murder, stepped off the train from Tyro yesterday and was followed to North Sydney by constable McDonald. The suspect's actions were very suspicious and the officer thought he had the murderer in his grasp.

When a photograph was produced, however, it soon became evident that the man was not Restelli. The suspect was closely questioned and his answers were evasive. No arrest was made.

There will be a regular meeting of Court Granite City, No. 3, E. of A., Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in E. of A. hall.

Miss Alice Hudson and Percy Batchelder were in Montpelier Sunday, to visit Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Batchelder, who are at the Heaton hospital for treatment.

Plainfield has just had the usual summer delight. When the venerable Andrew J. Lawrence begins his annual vacation from the U. S. mint at Philadelphia, in which he is now the veteran operator, and brings his violin, as he always does, to the home of his sister, Mrs. Amanda Batchelder, who opens her doors every evening to all the citizenship.

Mrs. Clem. Kellogg seats herself at the piano and the concert begins. "I heard him play," said one of the workmen, "when I was passing, and I made up my mind that he could pretty near play a violin." Mr. Lawrence has had the violin fever ever since he was making the "thing" in Nye's shop in North Montpelier, and now Plainfield gets the benefit of a high class of music most skillfully rendered. For an evening or two, Mrs. Kellogg is "spelled" by Mrs. Ellen Nye Gray, organist and teacher of music in Peacham, who is one of the Nye family before mentioned, and to all four the listeners were and cheer, dwelling on the delights of 1910 until it becomes harder to anticipate 1911.

New Goods Coming

Each day now will see new goods arriving, both by freight and express. Today we received our fall skirts; yesterday, our fall outings. The arrival of these goods makes us feel all the more as though we should be closed out of summer goods and odd lots. Next Saturday will be Remnant Day. This sale practically closes our summer business. Look at them. We will take a loss on many kinds in order to close them out.

Garment Department

All of our Wash Suits are marked down. This takes in all of our Colored Princess Suits for house or street wear. Suits that were from $1.00 up, so that now you can buy a Colored Suit for less money than same goods would sell for, made into a common-styled wrapper.

These House Suits sell better than wrappers, and now that the price is but about two-thirds as much, it makes them very desirable.

Ladies' White Dresses, everything in the way of a Princess Dress, now in this mark down sale.

Children's Colored Dresses in all sizes from 6 years to 14 years. This makes a good chance to save on Children's School Dresses.

Ladies' Wool Suits at half price are bargain trades. If ladies could only realize just how good these Suits are for the price asked, the sale would be half made.

Ladies' Waists

We want to call your attention to a better class of Waists than you see in most garment departments, and these at but a part of their original price.

Ladies' Waists that were $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50, in muslin and laundered styles, all the old Waists that we have now on our bargain tables at 75c each. A big loss here.

Waists that were $1.50, in best styles, all in good shape, now at 98c.

Waists that were our very best, in fact, every White Muslin Waist, at less than cost to us—yes, less than cost of materials used in their making.

We have several styles in Net and Silk Waists that we will show you at sale price. These are just as clean and fresh, and the styles are good as can be had later. Any difference in price to you is a cash saving.

Dress Goods

From our Dress Goods sale last week, we have the following values to offer, and Saturday takes all of the remnants in our store.

Thirty-six-inch All Wool Panama in assorted colors, our best 30c cloth, now at 25c per yard, for skirts and misses' suits.

Fifty-inch All Wool Panama in Copenhagen, navy, slate and garnet, our 35c cloth, now for 50c; notice the width and fineness.

One piece of 75c 44-inch Black and White Shepherd Plaid; one of the fastest sellers in our store, now at 50c per yard.

Forty-two-inch All Wool Serge, an 85c value, comes in best colors and at this sale for 65c per yard.

There are a few more yards of that 61.25 Black Silk Taffeta at 98c per yard.

Cut these goods by a New Idea Pattern for best results.

Regal Oxfords at $2.69 and Ladies' Best Rubbers at 50c per pair should interest you. Later will be too late—come now.

EAST MONTPELIER.

Notes from the East Montpelier Camp-meeting.

East Montpelier, Aug. 10.—Yesterday was a very good one at the camp grounds. The weather was all that could be desired, there was an increase in attendance, and the chorister and soloist, Rev. A. F. Ingler of Lowell, Mass., arrived to give added strength to the working force; and, "Best of all," as John Wesley said in his dying hour, "God is with us."

Rev. D. F. Burns gave us a most practical exposition from Luke 15:25-32, showing the spirit of the elder brother; where he was, and what he might have been. The truth came home with power to many a heart.

In the afternoon, a strong sermon was preached by Rev. E. L. Stevens on the atonement, showing how Christ was the only being in the universe who was qualified to be a mediator between God and man, and also showing the necessity and efficiency of His atonement, His blessed results, and the best way of bringing its benefits to the world. He took 1 Tim. 2:5, 6 for his text, and there was deep conviction as a result of the proclaimed truth.

The evening service at 7:30 was deeply impressive. Rev. J. P. Irving preached from Mark 4:23, "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear!" The individual's responsibility as to how he hears and heeds truth was forcibly set forth by the earnest and clear statements of the speaker, and at the altar service one professed to have received salvation.

Services for to-day: 10:30 a. m., preaching by Rev. A. F. Ingler; 2:30 p. m., missionary service, sermon by Rev. J. P. Irving; 7:30 p. m., evangelistic service, sermon by Rev. J. P. Irving. Good singing, plain preaching.

EAST BARRE.

The woman's auxiliary will meet at the home of Mary Cochran Friday afternoon at one o'clock to sew. Let each member bring a needle and thread. There will be two machines in use and plenty of sewing to be done. All ladies not members of the society are cordially invited to come and help.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

John Anderson of North Hero Was Badly Mangled.

North Hero, Aug. 10.—John Anderson, a farmer aged about 65 years, was run over and instantly killed at a crossing near North Hero station yesterday by a special excursion train, south bound. Both legs and one arm were broken and his head badly mangled, death being instantaneous. Anderson was near the track when he heard the train whistle, and evidently believed it to be the regular train which stops at the station and he leisurely proceeded to drive across the track.
